The past year was one of unexampled famine and distress in Ireland; and the storm of calamity which swept over the island, was felt in its full force by all institutions immediately connected with the humbler classes.

Thus, although the number of Loan Funds reporting to the Board for 1847 are but 27 less than the number reporting for 1846, the number of Loans, and the amount circulated, have diminished by one-half.

In 1846, 255 Societies circulated - - - £. 1,778,591.

In 1847, 228 ditto ditto - - - 863,647.

The Board's last Report to Parliament exhibited, for the first time, a decrease in the general operations of the Loan Funds, and they then stated the probability of a much larger falling off for the current year. How fully this expectation has been realized, the past remarks will show.

But there is one lamentable feature in the Tables of the present Report, which was never before exhibited, and which the Board hope will never again occur; viz., that the loss on the operations of the year, in a vast number of Societies, has been so great, as in the aggregate to exceed the net profits.

That this should be the case, however, is no more than was to be expected, considering the generally disorganized state of the country.

Many borrowers and sureties, who, it is presumed, were considered solvent when the Loans were issued, had become paupers prior to the Loans being payable.

Again, although prompt steps were taken by the local managers, under the advice of this Board, to contract the circulation by diminishing the issues, they could not as suddenly contract their existing scale of expenses, adapted for double or treble the business.

From this cause, in a great measure, arises the enormous proportionate cost of the issue of each loan, as compared with the operations of more flourishing years.

The Board refer to the Appendices for the further information they have to submit for the consideration of Parliament.

Your Committee find 97*l.* 10*s.*, interest on stock funded, has been paid to your credit during 1847.

A further lodgment of 25*l.* from the assets of the late Rathvilly Loan Fund has been lodged to your credit in 1847, pending the settlement of the affairs of this Society, by your solicitors.

Your Committee find that a draft of 1,800*l.* having been drawn to purchase Government stock to that amount, and that the purchase of said stock costing but 1,775*l.* 11*s.* 10*d.*, the balance of the proceeds of the draft, amounting to 24*l.* 8*s.* 2*d.* was re-lodged to your credit.

Your Committee find that a direct lodgment of 21*l.* 1*s.* 8*d.*, on account of the Note Issue of 1843, was made prior to the date of balance.

These several sums, added to the balance in Bank at the date of the last audit, viz. 2,662*l.* 8*s.* 10*d.*, minus a draft for 5*l.*, mentioned in the last Report as not having been presented at that date, make a total of 3,812*l.* 1*s.* 4*d.*

Deducting the drafts drawn in conformity with your minutes, amounting to 2,749*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.*, of which particulars in the annexed Account, and 21*l.* 1*s.* 8*d.* lodged on account of the Note Issue of 1847, credited in the last Account, it will appear that a balance of 1,060*l.* 10*s.* 11*d.* should appear to your credit in Bank.

Your Committee find, by examination of your Bank-book, that the Bank of Ireland acknowledge this sum of 1,060*l.* 10*s.* 11*d.* to be the amount they held to your credit on the 10th January 1848, the date to which the closing balance is struck.

Your Committee notice that the prior Committees of Audit have expressed their satisfaction at the accuracy with which your accounts are kept. Your present Committee see no less reason to be satisfied.
